Each of our form have made an effort at one time or another to form part of a team for their house or joined in the house spirit from Tennis, Rounders, Swimming, Debating, Netball, Hockey, Cross-country and Athletics (with the dreaded 1500m, which Helenor always gets to run!) Talking of athletics, from AA Awards to South Peak, Rossal and Worksop. If there is a track to run on Mrs. Susan Hayward will arrange for us to compete. Ms 'Magic' Mags CharMichael helps along on the games staff letting us play volleyball and football, with the odd walk around the grounds 'when its such a nice day outside!'

We have the knowledge that if we are ever attacked we can, with the guidance of Rob Lock, kick, grab, slam and well — grab our way to safety with his self defence lessons. Mr. John R. Soppit helped nearly everyone gain many swimming awards and the art of resuscitation.

Through the years we have seen many teachers (and hair colours) including the colourful, yet slow, Mr. Wayne Wolferberger. Who taught myself, Faye, Helenor and Lubna biology, in which I think he photographed everything in the school and more, he also transformed the lab into a mini aquarium. One final question was put to him, "what will your lasting impression of St. Elphins be?" St. Elphin's school is unique because although it is a small school it offers so much for its pupils in the way of sport, music and drama, as well as all the academic subjects. It offers far more than schools in the United States of America.

Two words, 'Richmal Crompton', what do these words conjure up? Will the Latin group ever forget the reciting of Genu?

One thing St. Elphin's is known for is fund raising. From the Lent Charity to the sponsored walk, and many more. For the past year we have been sending our 50p's to N'Famara K from the Gambia High School, who is studying economics, history and government, this is a fund to keep him in education.

Clare, myself and many others in the form raised £60 for research into the cure of A.I.D.S. selling red ribbon bows (even though the sales tactics were a little strong.)
